THIRST KILLING QUAIL

Reports from over the county indicate that many quail are dying from thirst. Woodsmen say they find quail near streams that have gone dry and none are found where water is available.

TWO GRASS FIRES

The fire department was called to the home of Dr. & Mrs. J. M. Kimmey on Elba-Enterprise highway last Thursday afternoon to put out a grass fire that had gotten out of control. No serious damage was done. Saturday the department went to the store of Mr. & Mrs. Ben Jackson across from Dorsey Trainers where a trash and grass fire threatened adjacent property. The fire was quickly put out.

Fire Chief Flournoy Whitman warns everyone to use unusual care when burning trash or grass as everything is so dry, the flames will spread quickly. The fire chief stated he wants to commend motorists for their observance of the 500 feet fire line around the truck at fires and at drills.

S S CLASS CONTEST

The membership and attendance contest started two weeks ago in the Men's Bible Class at the Methodist Sunday school is well under way. Fifty-two men attended Sunday morning, evenly divided between the two teams. Sunday morning the Evans had 534 points and the Odds 529.

PEANUT HARVEST CLOSING

Hollan Harrison of the Elba Gin and Warehouse Co., who are buying peanuts for the Georgia-Piedmont Peanut Association, stated Tuesday morning that a large part of the 1952 crop had been marketed and up the season.

Unusually dry weather the past several weeks has made the harvesting season much shorter than usual. Mr. Harrison said the peanuts have been grudgingly unusually high and the price has averaged $200 per ton. The lack of moisture which raises the grade has just about offset the loss of weight on the scales. Reports indicate Mr. Harrison said that all over the area one of the best hay crops ever produced has been harvested and is being saved under ideal conditions. The price is high.

Greenwood Products Stop Buying Peanuts Blame Gov't Program

The Greenwood Products Company of Graceville, Fla. headed by a former Elban, George Morrow, announced last Friday that he had stopped buying peanuts at Mesdames M. S. Carmichael, Lesline of his plants, as a result of the political peanut program where shellers were ruled out. Morrow said the decision to retrench at these markets was brought on because "too great an inventory" was being built up and the Greenwood Company was exhausting its ability to borrow although financed by two of the largest banks in the South.

Markets closed were Elba, Ozark, Wicksburg, Louisville, Newville, Brundidge, New Brockton and Slocumb. The firm, largest buyer of peanuts in the Tri-State area, also was open for trade at the main office in Graceville. Morrow said that during the past nine days Greenwood purchased approximately $3 million worth of peanuts. Unusually dry weather which speeded the flow of peanuts to market was given as part of the trouble.

Starting Lineup of 1922 Eleven Given

At the Elba-Opp football contest members of Elba's first grid team were asked to identify themselves and a number responded. Solie Brunson, a member of the squad furnished the following lineup: Judson German, re; Willie English, rt; J. P. Marsh, B. J. Cardwell, c; Red Foley, lg; Jake Harper, lb; Hutchison, le; Sam Rowe, rh; B. H. Mitchell, M. S. Brunson, lb; Rudolph Wright, substitutes were John Garrett, Wilson Thomas, Frank Rainer, Charles Rowe and the Coach was Hartwell Boyd.

In commenting on the team, members state Coach Boyd did a good job of building a football eleven that made a good record and won a good part of their games the first season. They went on to give Elba a squad that was rated with the strongest in this area.

THE PEOPLE HAVE SPOKEN

37 Years Ago in Elba

By C. B. McDowell

—37 Years Ago— Hal Roberts, young white man and a Negro named McKenzie are seriously wounded as a result of a shooting scrape at New Brockton Saturday night about 8:30 o'clock. Details of the tragedy are not available but rumor has it that Roberts was abusing the Negro when the colored man pulled a pistol and fired, the bullet taking effect in Roberts' body. Roberts then pulled his pistol and shot McKenzie, the ball entering the hip and lodging near the bladder. Roberts was carried to the hospital at Enterprise where he died early Monday morning. The Negro was brought to Enterprise night and lodged in jail where an operation was performed. At last report, he was resting well but is in a serious condition and not expected to live. Roberts was a resident of New Brockton, about 20 years old.

—37 Years Ago— According to the report of J. J. Ferris, special agent of the census department, 22,110 bales of cotton were ginned in Coffee County prior to Oct. 18 as compared with 22,634 bales ginned prior to that date last year.

—37 Years Ago— The fire alarm was turned in this morning from A. D. Donaldson's residence in West Elba. The fire company responded promptly but the blaze was extinguished with two buckets of water before arrival of the firemen. The fire started around the stove fuel and did little damage. The School Improvement Club will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the school building for the purpose of planting flowers and making other improvements on the grounds. This organization is doing meritorious work.

Coffee County Sticks with "Old Democratic Tradition"

Although Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican, overcame his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson by a landslide vote for the presidency in Tuesday's general election, Coffee County remained loyal to Democratic party traditions and carried the county by a margin of approximately six to one. Unofficial reports from 25 Coffee boxes, including Beats 8 and 17, gave Stevenson 2478 to 519 for Eisenhower. The House will also be quite close, each party being assured of 184 members. In Congressional races undecided, Republican candidates are leading in 40 districts and Democrats in 24. A balance of power for the GOP or six seats was forecast. Returns showed that Alabama, christened David Dwight but his Democratic column although the Republicans polled more votes than "Dave". She did not reckon with Al Smith carried over Hoover. Reports showed that Eisenhower carried the city of Mobile for the first time in history for a Republican candidate.

Charles Grantham Killed in Car Wreck

Charles L. (Bunk) Grantham, 22, son of Mr. & Mrs. L. C. Grantham, was almost instantly killed early Tuesday night when his car sideswiped a truck driven by Marion English near Wood's Store. The store is located about a mile east of the Elba-Sanson highway on the Enterprise road.

Joe English, brother of Marion, went to the scene of the accident. He said the best account he could obtain of the wreck was that his brother was coming from the east with a load of meal and was blinded by the lights of Grantham's car.

The Grantham car was occupied by the driver, Grantham, his wife and small child. All were carried to Enterprise hospital but Grantham was dead on arrival. Mrs. Grantham and her child were not seriously injured. Marion English suffered painful but not serious bruises and was severely shaken up.

Mr. Grantham lived in Dothan. He and his wife were well-known in this community.

James Boswell told the group 15 children were in school who could not afford to buy their own lunches. The Lions club had offered to sponsor five, the American Legion five and the Jaycees were asked to take care of five. The club voted to do it. Progress of the USO fund drive was reported by Jack Sondergaard. To date $117 has been collected with expenses of $8.00. Many good pledges have not been collected. Sondergaard stated.

Various fund-raising projects were discussed with sentiment favoring a turkey shoot or raffle before Thanksgiving. Ed Gingles and James Boswell were named as members of the fund-raising committee.

Miss Shirley Shivers, 16-year-old Coffee County High School girl from Enterprise, was named queen. Miss Gloria Early of Sanson won third. The Elba school band and majorettes participated in the big parade and mass concert on Saturday.

MEET THE WINNERS

Eisenhower and Nixon: The New High Command

Few men in American history have stepped from one of the highest military posts to the highest civil post their country could offer them. Still fewer start out in politics right at the top. And, too, few men lead an army of 5,000,000 men to victory in a great and bloody world war.

Such is the man who, Tuesday, was elected by the American voters as their 34th President, Dwight David Eisenhower.

Eisenhower stands five feet ten inches tall and usually weighs in at about 190 pounds. On October 14, he was 62 years old.

The original Eisenhowers arrived in America in the early part of the 18th century and settled as part of a community of Mennonites in Pennsylvania. In 1878 came the great trek to Kansas. The Eisenhowers settled in Abilene where David and Ida Eisenhower were married.

Dwight David was the third oldest of six sons born to David and Ida. The fourth oldest, Roy, a pharmacist, died in 1942. Arthur, the oldest, is a Kansas City banker. Edgar is senior partner in the Taft-Huntley law firm of Eisenhower, Hunter and Ramsdell. Earl is an electrical engineer, and Milton, the youngest and second best known of the lot, is president of Pennsylvania state university.

Originally, Eisenhower was a colonel of the 26th Infantry Division. He did not reckon with his mother turned it around because she disliked hearing him called "Dave". She did not reckon with the nickname "Ike" which all of the Eisenhower brothers bore at one time or another and which stuck to her first born.

Many reasons have been mentioned for his choice of a military career.

It is possible that even Eisenhower himself is not sure. He may have been motivated by nothing more than the fact that he would receive a college education, which neither he nor his father could afford, at government expense and, at the same time, see some of the world outside the naturally confining sphere of Abilene.

What put the idea in his head originally was being told by a friend of the latter's intention of going to Annapolis. Eisenhower liked the idea and began to study for the entrance examination. When the examinations were graded he stood second on the list and was, therefore, eligible for other Annapolis or West Point. But, in the meantime, he had passed his 20th birthday and was no longer eligible for the naval academy. Through Senator Brewster of Kansas, he obtained his appointment to the United States military academy.

In West Point, as in his previous school work, he was less interested in academic work than in sports. However, his scholastic average for the four years put him in the top third of his class. He also had the makings of a star football player until a knee injury disqualified him for football forever.

On June 12, 1915, he was graduated and commissioned a second lieutenant.

Eisenhower's first assignment was in San Antonio, Texas, where, the following October, he met Mamie Geneva Doud. They were married the following July of 1916.

The Eisenhower's first son, Doud, died when he was three, but a second son, John Doud, was born and is now an army major. When he took his entrance examination for West Point, John had the highest score ever made by a Kansas applicant.

Although he very much wanted to get overseas during World War I, Eisenhower never got outside the United States. Instead, he was put in command of a tank training school—an unusual assignment since the school had no tanks.

Following the war, he settled down to the monotony of peacetime army life.

Eisenhower had many varied tours of duty but none of them colorful, at least from his viewpoint. He spent two and a half years in the Panama Canal zone with Brig. Gen. "Fox" Conner. He met such men as the flamboyant George S. Patton. The thing that was to lift him out of monotony was his assignment, in February 1925, as assistant to the chief of staff, Gen. Douglas MacArthur. When MacArthur went to the Philippines as special advisor, Eisenhower went along.

When World War II broke for

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER

Now the election is over and he is about to take on the biggest job of his career—the presidency of the United States.

His running mate, Sen. Richard Milhous Nixon, was born in Yorba Linda, California, in 1913 and later moved with his parents to Whittier where he graduated from Whittier college and won a scholarship to Duke university. Upon receiving his law degree, he returned to Whittier to practice. It was shortly after this that he met his wife-to-be, Patricia Ryan, when they were both acting in a play given by a community theater. They have two small daughters.

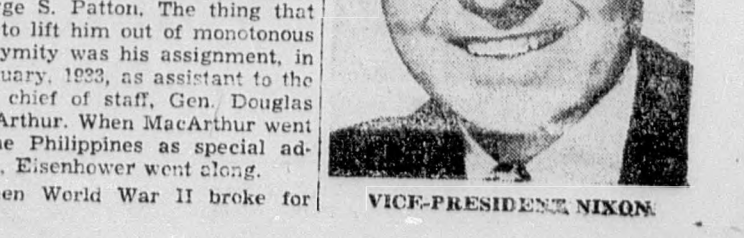

During the war, he served with the Navy, and the better part of four years in the South Pacific. At the end of the war he left the Navy as a lieutenant commander and elected to go into politics. He was the incumbent Democrat in the 12th congressional district of California and won the seat in the house of representatives.

There he was active in prosecuting Alger Hiss and was on the work the non-American activities committee. He also was investigating Gerhard Eisler and Eugene Dennis. He also took part in the committee's Hollywood inquiries. He was coauthor of the Mundt-Nixon bill for the registration of Communists. In 1950 he was elected to the senate.

Then came the 1952 Republican party convention where, to his own surprise, he was nominated for the vice-presidency.

When the election returns had been counted, Nixon found that he had been elected to the second highest office in the land—vice president of the United States—only six years after his entry into politics.

These are your president and vice-president for the next four years.

NO TELLING

A lady in our town who may be best described as a perpetual talker was asked by one of her long-suffering neighbors if she ever thought about what she was going to say before saying it. "Why, no," said the lady solemnly. "How on earth could I know what I think about a thing until I've heard what I have to say on the subject?"

Who's Who?
An old farmer and his wife were in the great city of the great city where some of the world's greatest pianists have lived. They were looking at a picture of a woman in a long dress and a hat. "It says it's called 'Beauty and the Beast,'" said the wife after putting on her glasses to read the title.

"Uh huh," grunted the old man. "Ah, that there hawes is sure enough a beauty, too!"

HE ERRED

A new member of a certain government bureau made life miserable for his associates by pretending to be absolutely infallible. One day, however, he startled his co-workers by admitting that once he had been wrong.

"You wrong?" exclaimed one of his listeners.

"Yes," replied the infallible man. "Once I thought I was wrong when I wasn't."

MIRACLE OF FARMING

A farmer had planted a crop of flax, and had a tablecloth made from the linen he produced. Some time later he remarked to a guest at dinner, "I grew this tablecloth myself."

"Did you, really?" the lady remarked with a little sarcasm. "How do you ever manage to grow such things?"

"Promise you won't tell, madam," he asked.

"Well," he whispered solemnly, "I planted a napkin."

His Weakness

In the crowded bus a lanky Kentuckian sat opposite a pretty girl whose skinny skirt kept creeping up her knees. She kept a constant battle with it, pulling it down, but as soon as she released her hold, it crept up again.

After one hard yank, she looked up and met the gaze of her traveling companion.

"Don't stretch your calico, sister," he advised her. "My weakness is liquor."

Better Than Comedy

Frances Perkins, former secretary of labor, tells about turning to a gentleman seated behind her to a movie, and saying, "If my hat prevents your seeing this picture, I'd be happy to take it off."

"Please don't take the hat," the man said. "The hat's much funnier than the movie."

Tiger Gridders Reverse Form To Bowl Over Geneva, 20-12
One of the greatest reversals ever shown by an Elba football team from one week to the next was the Tiger's smashing victory over the Geneva Gridders on Tuesday night. Whereas the cripplingly defeated team a week ago appeared as good as defeated, they appeared as good as winners on Tuesday night. The game was marred by a bad touchdown in the third period but the Tigers put the game on another touchdown. J. Milton Whitehead, tackle, took the ball to pick up two first downs and set the ball on the Geneva 7-yard line. John Milton took it over from there. T. W. McGowan, the extra point, made the count, Elba 20, Geneva 12.

Elba's starting lineup: Ends, Roland Powell and Billy Joe Whitehead; tackles, Thomas Prescott and Billie Poole; guards, Donald Jones and Bobby Ford; center, Bill Bulard; qb, J. W. McGowan; halfbacks, Tommy Wise and Martin Drees; fullback, Jimmy Bowdoin.

Scoring touchdowns: Elba, J. W. McGowan (2), T. W. McGowan (2), T. W. McGowan (2), T. W. McGowan (2), T. W. McGowan (2).

Elba's extra points: T. W. McGowan.

Lost Hunting Time Will Be Made Up If Possible—McGowan
Alabama Conservation Director Earl M. McGowan said today that every possible effort will be made to give hunters an equal amount of time on the end of the hunting seasons to make up for that lost during the current forest fire emergency.

McGowan said extension of the seasons depends on the length of the present drought. If seasons are closed for a short period only, then it would be possible, McGowan said, to extend them to make up for the lost time. However, if the fire hazard continues for a long time, then an extension of the hunting season might affect some reproduction and damage next year's game crop.

He emphasized that he does not mean to blame the hunters in the fire emergency.

KEEPING THEM APART
Alabama farmers produced 262,000 tons of cultivated hay during 1932 compared with 240,000 last year. Hay is selling for an average of $14.80 per ton, compared with $15.00 last year. The yield this year on a 100-acre farm is not as good as last year.

Official Count Shows County Demo by 5-1

The canvassing board met in the courthouse Friday to officially count the Coffee County ballot.

A total of 4,620 votes were counted in the county for president—believed to be a record for a general election here. With the exception of the 1928 election, in which A. Smith opposed Herbert Hoover, general elections in Coffee County have created little interest. This time opposition to Truman and the general popularity of Eisenhower built up great interest and caused voters to flock to the polls.

AMENDMENTS
All amendments were attached to the following vote:
No. 1—Yes 1,448, No 1781.
No. 2—Yes 703, No 2166.
No. 3—Yes 450, No 570.
No. 4—Yes 412, No 586.
Vote by Ballot on the Stephens-Eisenhower issue was:
Ballot—Stephens 1,448, Eisenhower 1,781.

37 Years Ago in Elba
By C. B. McDowell

"Every farmer in Coffee county should provide his farm with a sufficient supply of broodsows. Meat is scarce and probably will continue to bring good prices for a long time. A change from all-cotton farming to diversified farming means more food crops. More food crops, therefore, we will need more livestock to consume these crops. Do not sell any hogs off the farm and do not slaughter any good brood sows. More hogs and peanuts may be our slogan next spring."

Alabama farmers produced 262,000 tons of cultivated hay during 1932 compared with 240,000 last year. Hay is selling for an average of $14.80 per ton, compared with $15.00 last year. The yield this year on a 100-acre farm is not as good as last year.
